Term employees shall be entitled to all rights and benefits of this Agreement except where otherwise specified in this Agreement.

Term employees who are appointed for a period of less than one year will not be granted annual leave. Their total remuneration will include an amount of 4/52nds of salary as vacation pay. Term employees appointed for one year or more shall accumulate annual leave entitlements.

Termination of a term employee at the time the term position is discontinued is not subject to the grievance procedure.

The Union recognizes that the Human Rights Code exemption from the Human Rights Commission may be exercised to override the seniority rights of term employees when the employer is filling permanent positions.

Unless undue hardship can be demonstrated by the employer prior to the appointment, in cases where a permanent employee is appointed to a term position that does not exceed twenty-four (24) months in duration, at the end of the term appointment, the employee will be returned to his/her previous permanent position. If the employee's former permanent position no longer exists, the provisions in Article 17 will apply.

In cases where a permanent employee is appointed to a term position of greater than twenty-four (24) months, the employee foregoes any right to return to his/her previously held permanent position unless the employer and the Union agree otherwise. The employee will retain all other rights of this Agreement except severance pay.

Unless the Union and the employer mutually agree otherwise, upon notification to a permanent employee that the term position will extend beyond twenty-four (24) months and the employee elects to stay in the term position, the employee foregoes any right to return to her/his previously held permanent position. The employee will retain all other rights of this Agreement except severance pay.

When a term employee has been in the same position continuously for more than twenty-four (24) months or in the case of an employee replacing an absent employee due to disability, the employee's status will be changed to permanent.

The employee will then be entitled to all rights of a permanent employee, except the employee will not be entitled to severance pay under Article 17 if the term position is terminated or the employee is not the successful candidate if the position is posted as permanent.

The parties agree a term position shall not be used for altering or changing existing position status without the mutual agreement of the parties.

7.5 Student Worker Positions

7.5.1 Student Worker Positions

Student Worker Positions shall be mutually agreed to by the parties. The agreed to designated positions are Student Library Workers and Student Ambassadors.

7.5.2 Student Library Worker

Student Library Worker positions shall adhere to SCHEDULE C. ALSO, the parties agree to the same general pay increases for the SCHEDULE C employees as those negotiated for other employees.

7.5.3 Summer Student Workers

The Union and the employer hereby agree that the employer may accommodate the employment of summer student workers in the workplace under special project funding or student employment funding opportunities (i.e.: Centennial Student Employment Program or Regina Treaty/Status Indian Services) with the understanding that:

- 1) Summer student worker terms of employment shall fall between May 1 and August 31 of any one year;
- 2) Summer student workers will not perform duties ordinarily performed by Union members;
- 3) Summer student worker positions will not be used to circumvent the creation of potential Union positions; and
- 4) Summer student workers will not be required to pay Union dues.

The employer also agrees to provide to the Union, prior to posting summer student worker positions, position descriptions along with verification that the positions being filled fall under special project funding or a student employment funding opportunity.

7.6 Casual Employees

A casual position is a position that due to its nature does not occur on a predictable and scheduled basis.

A casual employee shall be entitled to all rights and benefits of this Agreement except where specified otherwise.

Casual employees accumulate seniority after 30 days of cumulative service for the purpose of bidding into positions until such time as there is a break in service of greater than three months.

Casual employees after 30 days of cumulative service shall be recalled according to the principles of seniority and qualifications suitable for the position to be filled.

Casual employees will earn seniority according to days worked.

ARTICLE 8 -- SENIORITY

8.1 Seniority Defined

Casual employees are entitled to seniority rights as per Article 7.6.

Term employees accumulate seniority for bidding purposes only. (See Article 7.4)

Term employees who, prior to their appointment to a term position, worked as a casual, will have their casual employment recognized for seniority purposes provided there has been no break in employment of greater than three (3) months.

Seniority rights do not apply during a probation period. Upon successful completion of the probationary period, employees will be credited with seniority from the last date of hire into the bargaining unit. (See Article 9.8)

Seniority for all permanent, term and casual employees is defined as the length of employment from the last date of hire into the bargaining unit subject to any exclusions or interruptions to such as defined in this Agreement. (See Article 8.2)

Permanent employees who, prior to their appointment to a permanent position, and who previously worked on a term basis, will have their employment recognized for seniority purposes provided there has been no break in employment.

Seniority will operate on a bargaining unit wide basis unless specified otherwise in this Agreement. Seniority is a factor in determining promotions, transfers, demotions, bumping, layoff and recall.

8.2 Special Adjustments to Seniority

8.2.1 Temporary Employment Within Another University Bargaining Unit

Employees who accept temporary positions in another bargaining unit, will maintain seniority but will not accumulate it. (See Article 16)

8.2.2 Discharge Without Reinstatement

An employee shall lose seniority rights in the event of discharge without reinstatement.

8.2.3 Resignation

An employee shall lose seniority rights in the event of resignation from the University effective from the termination date. An employee may, without prejudice, withdraw a resignation up to the end of the working day following the day the resignation is submitted.

8.3 Seniority Rosters

The employer will prepare in January of each year and forward to the Union a seniority roster suitable for posting that includes all bargaining unit employees eligible to accumulate seniority.

8.4 Correction of Seniority Roster

On presentation by an employee of proof of error in the roster(s), the employer shall make a correction immediately. The correction will be in the form of a supplementary sheet suitable for posting and forwarded to the Union.

ARTICLE 9 -- VACANCIES, APPOINTMENTS AND PROBATION

9.1 Posting

All vacant bargaining unit positions, whether new or existing, will be advertised within the University - Regina Campus, Saskatoon Campus, and Northern Campus and remain open for a period of five (5) working days. A posting via e-mail will be sent to all bargaining unit employees.

As well, all postings, both internal and external, shall be posted on a bulletin board outside the Human Resources Department and in other suitable locations, where appropriate and desirable.

All term positions extending beyond four (4) months shall be posted unless by agreement between the employer and the Union. Any term position that becomes a permanent position shall be posted except for Article 7.4 guidelines.

The postings will include the following information: job title, a description of the position derived from the current position description, required qualifications, location, whether permanent or term, the projected end date of a term position, whether full-time or regular part-time, regular hours of work, pay grade and salary range.

A copy of each posting will be forwarded to the Union.

With agreement from the Union, positions may be advertised outside of the University at the same time as an internal posting with the understanding that bargaining unit applications will be considered before any external application.

9.2 Bidding on Vacant Positions

Employees may bid on posted positions by submitting a resume to the Human Resources Department within the posting period. At the conclusion of the posting period, the employer will provide the Union with a copy of the screening matrix for all internal applicants. Employees may apply for positions on other campuses.

Employees on vacation, or approved leaves of absence, may apply by proxy by having a Steward or fellow employee submit an application on their behalf. This application will be given the same consideration as any other application.

The employer will not be responsible for any costs incurred in an employee's efforts to comply with this clause.

9.3 Notice of Results

The employer agrees to make every effort to fill positions and notify applicants as expeditiously as possible following the posting period.

Employees applying for transfer will be advised in writing of the result of their applications by the Employer within two calendar weeks after the vacancy is filled or the competition cancelled.

9.4 Basis for Selection

See Articles 7 and 8 for seniority exclusions and limitations related to the following provisions.

Any posted vacancy shall be filled with preference to bargaining unit employees with the required qualifications as stated in the job posting, ability sufficient to perform the position and the greatest seniority. Any outstanding performance issues/disciplinary actions documented on the employee's official file or destined for the employee's official file will be a consideration in determining "required qualifications" and "ability sufficient". (See Article 4.6)

If there are no fully qualified CUPE bargaining unit applicants, the employer will consider, in order of seniority, the applications of employees who are close to possessing the required qualifications before considering applicants from outside of the CUPE bargaining unit. If an appointment is made of an applicant who does not possess all of the required qualifications of the position, the employer may, as a condition of appointment, require that the applicant obtain the qualification(s) within a specified time limit.

9.5 Provisional Period

A permanent employee who is appointed, placed, recalled, bumps or accepts a transfer to another permanent position within the bargaining unit shall be appointed provisionally for three (3) months, during which time performance will be appraised. Such appraisals will be discussed with the employee.

An employee who successfully completes the provisional period shall be declared permanent in the position.

9.5.1 Extension

At the discretion of the Human Resources Department, the provisional period may be extended by the cumulative length of any period(s) of absence from work for more than five consecutive days. In the event this happens, the employee will be notified in writing at least two (2) weeks prior to the extension.

Notwithstanding the above, the provisional period may also be extended by a period of up to three months if mutually agreed to in writing by both parties to this Agreement.

9.5.2 Reversion

At the end of the provisional period, if the employee has not performed satisfactorily, or at any time during the period when it becomes clearly evident that the employee is incapable of handling the job, the employee shall be returned to the former status (either layoff or position and salary) subject to any performance increment, payable no sooner than the reversion date, which normally would have been received had the employee remained in that position.

During the provisional period, the employee may revert voluntarily to the employee's former status (either layoff or position and salary) subject to any performance increment, payable no sooner than the reversion date, which normally would have been received had the employee remained in that position.

Each employee can exercise this voluntary return to former status right only once as a bargaining unit employee. The employee's offer letter from the employer shall reference this return to former status right.

During the provisional period of appointment, the CUPE employee's previously held position may be filled on a term basis.

In the event of a reversion, the vacated position will not be re-posted but rather, the selection and hiring process will continue with the remaining list of original applicants, as if no appointment had been made prior to the reversion.

If such reversion displaces an employee who has completed a probationary or provisional period, the displaced employee shall have the right to revert or to be laid off, as appropriate.

In the event of reversion to a position that has been eliminated under Article 17, the employee will not return to his/her previous position but rather, will be dealt with under the applicable provisions of Article 17.

9.6 On-the-Job Training

At the written request of an employee and with the written agreement of their supervisor, arrangements may be made for on-the-job training conditional on no disruption of the performance of the duties of any positions affected. Length of service in the work unit will be one of the factors considered in scheduling the training. This may be on the employer's time or arrangements can be made to allow access to the facilities of the workplace on the employee's time.

9.7 Probationary Period

9.7.1 Extension Due to Absence

At the discretion of the Human Resources Department, the probationary period may be extended by the cumulative length of any period(s) of absence from work for more than five consecutive days. In the event this happens, the employee will be notified prior to the extension.

9.7.2 Extension By Agreement

Notwithstanding the above, this probationary period may also be extended by a period of up to three months if mutually agreed to by both parties to this agreement.

9.7.3 Termination During Probationary Period

During their probationary period, employees will be advised of expectations regarding standards of performance. Employees will also be advised in writing of shortcomings in order to correct deficiencies. Should the employer decide to terminate the employee, the employee will be given the reasons in writing with a copy to the Union prior to the employee's termination and provided an opportunity to respond.

Seven days notice shall be given if the incumbent has been in the position for less than fifteen (15) weeks. If the incumbent has been in the position for fifteen (15) weeks or longer, two (2) weeks notice will be given. A copy of the notice shall be provided simultaneously to the Union.

Termination of an employee during the probation period is subject to the grievance procedure.

A Steward or designated Union Representative shall be present during all of the above processes.

9.8 Length of Probationary Periods

All appointees to a permanent position, who are not already permanent employees, shall be on probation for a period of six months from the date of commencing duties in the permanent position.

Unless the employee is already a permanent employee, a term appointment to a term position shall be probationary for a period of six months from the date of commencing duties in the position. (See Article 9.5)

During the probationary period, the employee shall be entitled to all rights and benefits of this Agreement except where specified otherwise in this Agreement.

ARTICLE 10 -- WORKLOAD ISSUES

10.1 Requests for Review

When an employee feels the workload, when balanced over a reasonable period of time, is significantly greater than it should be, the employee may discuss the matter with his/her supervisor in the presence of a Steward or designated Union Representative. If the matter is not resolved, the employee may request the Union to address the issue at a joint Union-Management Committee meeting at which the employee and the supervisor shall be present.

10.2 Dispute Resolution

If a satisfactory resolution cannot be reached in meeting, the employee may grieve under the provisions of Article 6.3.

ARTICLE 11 - HOURS OF WORK AND SPECIAL PAY PROVISIONS

11.1 Daily Hours of Work

11.3 Accommodation of Employees Who Are Students

The employer will make every effort to accommodate the academic schedule of employees who are full-time students when assigning work schedules. In the event of two such employees claiming the same work schedule, the employee with the greatest working service at the University will be given preference. (See Article 7.5 and SCHEDULE C )

11.4 Overtime

All overtime arrangements must have prior written authorization from the appropriate supervisor except in emergency situations when there is no supervisor reasonably accessible to authorize such overtime.

11.4.1 Overtime Rate

Employees shall be paid, at their current hourly rate as determined by the instructions in Schedule A of this Agreement, time and one-half for all time worked in excess of the stated regular hours of work.

11.4.3 Accumulation of Time Off in Lieu of Overtime

Employees may accumulate overtime compensation from each incidence of overtime for up to a twelve month period in order to provide time off with pay. Such time must be taken within three months of the end of the twelve-month period at a time mutually agreed in writing between the supervisor and the employee.

11.4.4 Part-Time Overtime

Employees who work less than full days will not receive overtime until their work exceeds the stated regular hours of work as specified in Article 11.1

11.4.5 Overtime Voluntary

11.4.6 Employer Directed Overtime

If the majority of an employee's hours of work fall outside the hours specified above, the premium will be paid for the entire workday.

Unsocial hours of work premiums do not apply to overtime.

11.6 Provision of Meal

Where an employee is required to work continuously beyond normal quitting time in excess of two hours or is required to return to work for overtime purposes for a period in excess of four hours, the employer agrees to provide a suitable meal.

11.7 Childcare Expenses

When an employee is required by a supervisor of the employer to be away from home overnight at the request of the supervisor or employer and when the employee has to hire someone to care for his/her children during this absence, childcare costs will be compensated by the employer to a maximum of $50.00 per day per child under the age of sixteen for childcare.

A signed receipt from the care provider must accompany the expense claim.

11.8 Provision of Tools

The employer will provide, on each pay day, to each employee, an itemized statement of wages showing the month, hours, rates, deductions, etc. Upon request, personal material will be provided in sealed envelopes.

11.14 Pay for Temporary Performance of Higher Level Duties

11.14.1 Within the Bargaining Unit

When an employee is expected to perform temporarily the duties of a higher paid position or is assigned those duties in writing by the employee's supervisor, the CUPE salary of the employee shall be adjusted from the date of reassignment to the greater of:

- 1) the step in the pay band of the higher paid classification which is next higher than the employee's current salary rate; or

The employee has the right, at any time, to refuse to perform higher-level duties.

11.15 Administrative Errors

Administrative errors made relative to an employee's salary or benefit plans will be adjusted in such a way as not to prejudice the rights of the employee. In any instance where recovery is required, the employer and Union will meet with the employee to develop a reasonable repayment schedule. Failure to agree will result in the employer implementing a reasonable repayment schedule.

ARTICLE 12 -- PERFORMANCE EVALUATION AND INCREMENTS

The parties agree the purpose of performance evaluations is to provide the employee with an honest and fair assessment of performance. All persons involved in the review will undertake their roles seriously and with integrity, ensuring that statements, both verbal and written, refer to aspects of performance, are fair commentary and are based upon appropriate evaluation and evidence.

Changes to the Performance Evaluation Form will be discussed with the Union prior to alterations.

12.1 Process and Responsibilities

Approximately thirty (30) days prior to the employee's annual performance increment anniversary date in his/her current position, the supervisor may initiate a performance evaluation by forwarding a completed Performance Evaluation Form to an employee under his/her direction.

The employee will have ten (10) working days to review and prepare a response, at their discretion, as an attachment to the Performance Evaluation Form before returning the form to their supervisor. The employee may request the assistance of a Steward or designated Union Representative in preparing a response.

The employee may have a Steward or designated Union Representative present as an observer during the performance evaluation discussion.

The employee shall sign the performance evaluation as proof the employee has read it; such signature shall not necessarily constitute agreement with the contents of the evaluation.

The supervisor is ultimately responsible for completion of the performance evaluation process, which includes discussing the performance evaluation with the employee, obtaining signatures and forwarding the Performance Evaluation Form to the Director of Human Resources where it will be placed in the employee's official file. The employer will forfeit the right to withhold an increment if the supervisor fails to complete the evaluation process by the employee's anniversary date.

Increments may be withheld only when the performance evaluation documents unsatisfactory performance of duties and the employer has made a reasonable effort to coach the employee about his/her work performance.

12.2 Performance Evaluation Grievances

The supervisor shall provide a copy of the completed Performance Evaluation Form to the employee who shall have five working days to review and prepare a response at their discretion. The employee may request the assistance of a Steward in preparing a response.

The employee may include a response to the performance evaluation as an attachment to the Performance Evaluation Form before returning the form to their supervisor.

If an employee does not agree with the contents or outcome of their employee performance evaluation, the employee shall have access to the grievance and arbitration process.

12.3 Changes to Anniversary Date

Performance increments are effective on an employee's annual anniversary date and will be paid no later than two pay periods after the anniversary date.

When an employee is reclassified under Article 37 to a higher pay grade or appointed to a new higher pay grade position, the date of the position change will become the employee's new anniversary date.

When an employee is laterally transferred to a position with the same pay grade or to a lower pay grade, an employee's anniversary date does not change.

12.4 Working Service

Working service includes annual leave and leave for jury duty. Working service excludes the cumulative total of all other absences greater than four consecutive weeks during the annual performance review period, except for union leave.

Employees with 52 full weeks of working service from their anniversary date are eligible for a full performance increment. Employees with less than 52 full weeks of working service from their anniversary date shall have their increment anniversary date set back accordingly.

Pay range ceilings apply.

An employee who takes parental/maternity leave will not be penalized for his/her absence from work. The employee will return to his/her employment status held at the commencement of the leave and the performance increment date deferred to account for a full year of working service. In addition, any general salary increases to the CUPE salary grid will be applied to his/her salary upon return.

12.5 Financial Exigency

The parties agree that performance increments are paid subject to satisfactory performance. If increments are withheld, any adjustments to salary, or compensation of any kind for individuals employed or funded by the University, directly or indirectly, shall be made on a basis that is fair, equitable and consistent in approach.

12.6 Preferential Treatment

In no case shall any increase be provided to a person not covered by this Agreement that exceeds the average increase provided to persons within this Agreement.

ARTICLE 13 -- DISCIPLINE

13.1 Principle of Innocence and Burden of Proof

Both parties agree that an employee is considered innocent until proven guilty. In case of discharge or discipline, the burden of proof of just cause shall rest with the employer. Evidence presented shall pertain only to the grounds stated in the discharge or discipline notice to the employee.

The employer endorses the concept of progressive discipline in situations of poor performance. While the employer reserves the right to use any disciplinary action deemed appropriate, regardless of the order of the following clauses, the parties agree that, where possible, an employee should receive a verbal warning of inappropriate behaviour before written reprimands or other types of disciplinary action are taken.

Verbal reprimands shall not be documented in the employee's official file, are not grievable and shall be delivered in the presence of a Steward or designated Union Representative.

13.2 Written Reprimand

If an employee is formally reprimanded concerning unacceptable conduct or performance, it will be done with Steward or designated Union Representative present. A written reprimand including particulars of the work performance or behaviour, which resulted in the reprimand, shall be forwarded to the employee within ten working days of the reprimand discussion with copies to the Union and the Human Resources Department. A copy of the written reprimand will be placed on the employee's official file. An employee may respond in writing to the reprimand, and such response will become part of the employee's official file.

Written reprimands will be removed from the employee's file after two years of subsequent employment during which no additional documented disciplinary action is taken.

Written reprimands are grievable by the Union.

13.3 Written Warning

The Union shall be notified of the issuing of a written warning forty-eight (48) hours (two working days) in advance of the warning being given to the employee. The written warning shall be given to the employee with a Steward or designated Union Representative present. Copies of the written warning will be forwarded to the Union and the Human Resources Department. A copy of the written warning will be placed on the employee's official file. An employee may respond in writing to the reprimand, and such response will become part of the employee's official file.

Written warnings will be removed from the employee's file after two years of subsequent employment during which no additional documented disciplinary action is taken.

Written warnings are grievable by the Union.

13.4 Suspension

The employer reserves the right to suspend an employee for just cause, with or without pay depending on the severity of the infraction, for a period of up to one month. The suspension shall be given to the employee with a Shop Steward or designated Union Representative present. Confirmation of the action to be taken by the employer will be conveyed to the employee in writing by the Human Resources Department as soon as possible, with a copy of the suspension letter simultaneously sent to the Union. If the Union considers the action unjustified, it shall have from the date the suspension begins or the notice is received by the Union, whichever is later, fourteen calendar days in which to file a grievance.

Suspension letters will be removed from the employee's file after two years of subsequent employment during which no additional documented disciplinary action is taken.

13.5 Dismissal

The employer reserves the right to dismiss any employee for just cause. The dismissal shall be done in the presence of a Shop Steward or designated Union Representative. Written confirmation of the action taken will be conveyed to the employee in writing by the Human Resources Department with a copy sent simultaneously to the Union. The employee shall be suspended for fourteen (14) calendar days with pay during which time the Union shall have the opportunity to investigate the circumstances and state its case.

Unless a grievance is presented to the employer within the fourteen-day period following the receipt of a copy of a dismissal letter, the employee will be dismissed. If no just cause for dismissal can be proved, the employee shall be reinstated without loss of pay or with a lesser disciplinary action as the parties may agree is appropriate to the circumstances.

13.6 Benefits During Suspension

An employee's benefit plans will continue in full effect during any suspension.

ARTICLE 14 -- RESIGNATION

An employee who resigns is expected to give at least one month's notice in writing to the appropriate supervisor with a copy to the Human Resources Department. The length of the notice period may be changed or waived by mutual agreement between the employee and the appropriate supervisor. (See Article 8.2.3)

ARTICLE 15 -- RETIREMENT

The pension plan referenced throughout Article 15 refers to the Group Retirement Services pension plan addressed in Article 23.

15.1 Retirement Age and Benefit Coverage

Normal retirement is the first of the month coinciding with or following the employee's sixty-fifth birthday. By giving three months notice, an employee may retire any time in the ten years preceding the normal retirement date.

An employee may continue working and defer receiving pension payments. After age 65, continued employment will be conditional on satisfactory annual performance evaluations. Contributions to the pension plan from both employee and employer will be made for employees working after the normal retirement date until the employee retires or until pension payments begin.

15.2 Special Arrangements

Without prejudice, the employer may propose a plan to an employee who is not eligible for retirement whereby the employee's employment may be discontinued in accordance with a special arrangement, including a suitable financial settlement. A member may submit a request to the employer to initiate such an arrangement.

The employer will keep the Union and the employee who is eligible for such a special arrangement apprised of the basic terms of the arrangement with the understanding that there may be some flexibility in order to provide for the particular needs of the individual.

Without prejudice, the employer may offer an early retirement package to an individual employee or to a group of employees who are eligible to take early retirement and who meet certain conditions as outlined in the University's pension plan.

Whenever the employer proposes a plan for discontinuance of employment or assisted early retirement, the employer shall inform the Union, in writing, of the terms of any such formal offer two full days prior to making the formal written offer to the employee(s).

Any offer made in writing shall remain open for a minimum of thirty (30) days. Employees have the right to have a Union representative participate in any discussion that may take place between the employer and the employee after the formal written offer is made to the employee.

Any agreement or arrangement concluded must be in writing. The arrangement will not take effect until the President, the affected employee(s) and the Union have signed the agreement.

ARTICLE 16 - ENTRY AND RE-ENTRY FROM EXCLUDED POSITIONS

An employee who is appointed to a term position excluded from the bargaining unit shall cease membership and discontinue paying dues for the duration of the appointment provided the appointment is for more than one (1) calendar month. At the termination of the appointment to an excluded position, the employee shall automatically revert to his/her former position, become eligible for CUPE membership and commence paying dues. The employee shall have all the rights and privileges which are possible at the time, such as general salary increases and performance increments, restored effective the date of return to the bargaining unit, as if having been a CUPE member continuously throughout the period of appointment to the excluded position. Seniority will be adjusted accordingly provided the appointment is for more than one (1) calendar month.

Unless the Union and the University mutually agree otherwise, the term position will not extend beyond 24 months.

A University employee from outside the bargaining unit who is appointed to a position in the bargaining unit and who had previous continuous employment with the University, shall have all the rights and privileges which are possible at the time, such as annual leave entitlements except for the probationary requirement and seniority, as if having been a CUPE member continuously throughout their University employment. When entitled, the employee's seniority shall date from the time the employee enters the bargaining unit.

ARTICLE 17 - STAFF REDUCTION

17.1 Determination

Should the employer determine a need to reduce the hours of work in or eliminate any positions based on financial necessity, a reduced need due to restructuring, elimination or transfer of any University-sponsored programs or services, or as a result of a reduced need due to technological change, the affected permanent incumbent will be dealt with in the manner outlined below. (See Article 17.2.3)

Term and casual employees are excluded from these provisions.

For an employee in a term position of indefinite length, the notice period for the purpose of Article 17.2.2 only, is deemed to commence with the notice of a specific termination date in that position.

17.2 Notice

17.2.1 Notice To the Union

The employer shall provide as much notice as possible to the Union; however, notwithstanding, the employer shall notify the Union in writing at least two (2) working days prior to notifying the affected employee(s) of the reduction in or elimination of their position(s). The following details will be provided:

- 1) the positions (title and location) that will be affected;
- 2) to what extent each position will be affected;
- 3) the reason for the intended reduction or elimination; and
- 4) the intended date of employee notification.

17.2.2 Notice To the Employee

- 1) of the reduced hours or elimination of the position;
- 2) of the reason for the reduced hours or elimination of the position;
and
- 3) of whether the employer intends for the employee to remain employed in his/her position with the University during the notice period or that the employee will receive pay in lieu of the notice period prorated.

If the employee qualifies, the employer will include the details of an offer of assisted early retirement as part of the notification package to the employee. (See Article 17.3)

Within five working days of the reduction notification to the employee, the employer shall supply the employee with the following information for bumping consideration:

- 1) a CUPE seniority roster;
- 2) position description or job posting, whichever is most recent, for positions that qualify and have an incumbent with less seniority than the bumping employee; and
- 3) current work schedule of above-mentioned positions.

Throughout the notice period the employer will provide the affected employee(s) with reasonable information such as position descriptions and/or job postings toward informed decision-making regarding other suitable employment opportunities at the University.

In addition, the Human Resources Department will offer counseling services. The employee may be referred to other sources for additional counseling based on need. A union representative, Elder or other support person (excluding a parent, spouse, son or daughter) may be present at meetings with Human Resources.

17.2.3 Technological Change Consultation

In an attempt to keep employees apprised of current and anticipated modifications to the day-to-day work techniques of various classes of employees, the employer and the Union agree to meet from time to time as necessary. In addition, when the Human Resources Department becomes aware of impending significant technological change at the University, it will undertake to call such a meeting.

In cases of technological change, which directly affects conditions of employment, the employer and the Union agree to enter into consultation at the request of either party.

Consultation may include such things as:

- the nature of change to be introduced;
- timing of such; reassignment of duties;
- effects on terms and conditions of employment;

17.3.2 Notification by the Employee

The affected employee may elect to accept the early retirement offer by notifying the Human Resources Department, in writing, within fourteen calendar days of written notice from the employer. Upon election of this option, the employee will forego any other options outlined in Article 17.

An employee opting to accept an offer of assisted early retirement will cease being an employee on the first calendar day after his/her notice period from the employer expires, foregoing any further rights under this Agreement unless otherwise specified in this Agreement. The first calendar day after his/her notice period expires shall also be deemed the employee's retirement date.

17.4 Redeployment and/or Retraining

17.4.1 Redeployment and/or Retraining Offer

The employer will make every attempt to provide employees with offers of redeployment or retraining. Such training may be for an existing permanent position, a new permanent position or to supplement an employee's skills.

The employer will include written details of an offer of redeployment and/or retraining as part of the notification package to the employee. The employer will notify the Union of the terms of the offer prior to presentment to the employee. The affected employee may elect to accept the offer of redeployment and/or retraining by notifying the Human Resources Department, in writing, within fourteen (14) calendar days of written notice from the employer.

17.4.2 Provisional Period

A permanent employee who is transferred shall be appointed provisionally for three months, during which time performance will be appraised. Such appraisals will be discussed with the employee in the presence of a Steward, if the employee so chooses.

An employee who successfully completes the provisional period shall be declared permanent in the position and will forego any other options outlined in Article 17.

At the discretion of the Human Resources Department, the provisional period may be extended by the cumulative length of any period(s) of absence from work for more than five consecutive days. In the event this happens, the employee will be notified in writing at least two (2) weeks prior to the extension.

Notwithstanding the above, the provisional period may also be extended by a period of up to three months if mutually agreed to in writing by both parties to this Agreement.

At the end of the provisional period, if the employee has not performed satisfactorily, the employee shall be provided the balance of their options under Article 17.

17.5 Termination and Severance

17.5.1 Notification by the Employee

Subsequent to the notification of reduced hours in or the elimination of an employee's position, the employee may elect to terminate employment and receive severance pay by notifying the Human Resources Department within fourteen calendar days of written notice from the employer. Upon election of this option, the employee will forego any other options outlined in Article 17.

17.5.2 Termination Date

The employee will cease being an employee on the first calendar day after his/her notice period from the employer expires, foregoing any further rights under this Agreement.

17.5.3 Calculation of Severance Pay

Severance pay shall be calculated at a rate of one month's pay at the employee's current rate of pay for each full year of working service. Partial years of employment shall be prorated for this calculation. Regardless of years of working service, the maximum amount payable by way of severance shall be limited to twelve (12) months pay and payable to the employee on the last day of their notice period. (See Article 17.7.8)

17.6 Bumping

17.6.1 Notification by the Employee

If the employee does not elect early retirement (where applicable), redeployment and/or retraining as offered, layoff and recall or termination and severance, the employee may elect to exercise bumping rights by providing written notice to the Human Resources Department within fourteen (14) calendar days of written notice from the employer, including notice of which position the employee wishes to bump. Upon election of this option, the employee will forego any other options outlined in Article 17.

17.6.2 Bumping Rights

Only permanent positions will be considered for bumping. An employee may bump another Union member with less seniority. For the purposes of this paragraph, the Regina Campus, the Saskatoon Campus, the Northern Campus and NSDT shall each be treated as one campus.

Employees choosing to bump to another campus will be responsible for moving expenses.

Bumping rights shall accrue as follows:

- 1) First into a job title where the position is similar to the employee's current position (same pay grade) provided that the employee meets the minimum qualifications for the job.
- 2) Second, into any position at the same or lower pay level provided that the employee meets the minimum qualifications for the job as it was last posted or evaluated, as the case may be, except when the employer can demonstrate to the Union a bona fide change in the position requirements.
- 3) Employees who bump into a different job title and pay grade shall be placed on a provisional period.
- 4) The employee who is bumped shall immediately have access to the provisions of Article 17 except that the requirement for notice, Article 17.2, will not apply. If there is advance notice of a bump occurring, the affected employee shall be dealt with in accordance with Article 17.4, and all subsequent clauses in this article to the extent that time and opportunity permit.

The employee will be placed into the new position on the first working day following the notification period from the employer.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 17.6, at the request of the employee, the employer and the Union may agree on another arrangement, without prejudice, for a bumping situation. The employee must submit a letter requesting special consideration to the Human Resources Department prior to the mid-point of the employee's notice period from the employer.

When a new bargaining unit position is created or a position becomes vacant, the employer will automatically enter the laid off employee's name with the names of other applicants from within the bargaining unit. The position will be filled in accordance with Articles 9.2.2 and 9.4.

17.7.2 Election to Work Casual or Term

The employee may elect to work in available casual or term positions for which they have the qualifications and ability to perform the duties required for the position, without prejudicing their right to recall. Such casual or term employment shall suspend the employee's cumulative layoff for the duration of the employment. Upon expiry of the term position or if the employee fails the provisional period, the employee will be returned to cumulative layoff status.

17.7.3 Reporting for Duty

If a laid off employee is successful in their application to a posted position in Article 17.7.1 above, they shall report for duty on a mutually agreed date. If there is no mutually agreed date, the employee shall report for duty as specified in the appointment letter sent by registered mail to the employee's last known address. Failure to report for duty as specified will automatically cancel the awarding of the position to the employee. The employee will remain on layoff status. The employer will then award the position to the next qualified applicant. If the next or subsequent successful applicants are also on layoff, this clause will continue to apply until the position has been filled.

17.7.4 Decline of Offer

If a laid off employee is awarded a posted position through the application of this article, they shall be allowed one occasion in which to decline a position or fail to respond to an appointment. If the employee fails to respond to a second appointment or declines the awarding of the position on a second occasion by failing to report for duty within the ten calendar day period, the employee's employment shall be terminated unless the failure(s) to return to work have been because of circumstances beyond the employee's control.

17.7.5 Address Advice

It shall be the responsibility of all employees, including those laid off, to keep the Human Resources Department advised in writing of any changes to their address and/or telephone number. The Union will not hold the employer responsible for their inability to contact an employee due to an outdated address or telephone information.

17.7.6 Provisional Period on Recall

Employees who are recalled from layoff to a permanent or term position shall be considered to be on a provisional period in accordance with Article 9.5. If their performance is deemed to be unsatisfactory within this period of time, they will be returned to layoff and not recalled to the same position. The time spent in the position in question will not be included in the calculation of cumulative layoff.

17.7.7 Salary Administration

An employee who is recalled to or bumps into a position in a lower pay grade than their previous position, shall be offered the salary within the new pay grade that takes into account the employee's previous working service within the bargaining unit.

17.7.8 Severance After Layoff

When a permanent employee has been laid off for a cumulative period of twelve months without having successfully regained permanent employment, or the employee chooses to give up their recall rights, the employee will be considered severed and will be issued severance pay.

17.7.9 Grievances

Grievances concerning layoff and recall shall be initiated at Stage 2 of the grievance process.

17.7.10 Benefits During Layoff

The laid off employee may make arrangements with the Human Resources Department to continue paying the employee portion of the premiums for supplementary health care and/or dental care throughout the first six (6) months of the cumulative layoff period. The employer will continue to pay the employer's portion of those premiums selected by the employee. Should the employee choose to give up their recall rights, premium payments will be discontinued except where the employee is 55 or will reach the age of 55 in the year of layoff or during the year after the year of layoff. In these instances, Article 15.1 will apply.

ARTICLE 18 -- CLEARANCE UPON TERMINATION

Upon termination of employment, the final salary cheque will be issued within six (6) days of the last day on payroll, or as soon thereafter as all financial and material obligations of the employee to the employer are satisfied. ### ARTICLE 19 -- PAYMENT TO ESTATES OF DECEASED EMPLOYEES

When an employee has died, the employer will pay to the beneficiary as designated and specified by the employee in writing, the employee's salary up to the date of death in full, minus normal deductions. This refusal shall not be grounds for disciplinary action, but if the refusal results in the employee(s) not being able to perform their normal duties and other work is not available, the employee(s) may immediately be taken off payroll until once again able to perform their normal duties.

ARTICLE 35 -- DURATION AND CONTINUATION OF AGREEMENT

At that time, either of the Unions may also request a joint meeting be held with the employer.

Where a joint meeting is requested by either Union, the meeting shall include representatives from the employer, URFA and CUPE and it will be scheduled by the employer to be held within five (5) working days of the employer receiving the request for the meeting.

If during the joint meeting the parties are unable to reach a mutual agreement regarding the scope and/or designation of the appropriate bargaining unit for the position in question, the parties agree to thereafter apply jointly to the Saskatchewan Labour Relations Board for a decision regarding the scope of the new or revised position and the assignment of that position to the proper bargaining unit.
