

March 27, 2020

First Nations University of Canada Community,

First Nations University of Canada is working diligently to provide updated information to our community as it becomes available.

Here's the weekly status update ending March 27, 2020:

- Operations: All academic and business operations are continuing with added precautions. Many employees within all FNUniv campus locations have begun working remotely as of March 23, 2020.
- Courses: All in person instruction and activities on campus are suspended, which includes refraining visits to campus locations.
- Final Exams: There will be no face-to-face exams and all instructors have been notified of their responsibility to communicate final exam expectations to their students.
- Libraries will be closed until further notice; however, staff will be working on campus to provide remote/virtual/digital library services.
- Student Success Services: The team continues to support student success during the transition to distance learning. Academic Advisors, Retention Specialists, Student Recruitment Officer, Tutors, Writing Clinic Instructors, Wellness Counsellors and our Elder Support are available. They are happy to meet with students via phone/email/videoconference. For appointments or to speak with staff, students can contact 306-790-5950 or 1-800-267-2303, ext. 3127.
- Emergency Bursaries: Students who may require the extra financial assistance during this time may contact their campus Student Advisors or Retention Specialists and follow application procedures.
